West Side Water System is happy to notify you about our Immediate Emergency Response System (IRIS). It will take communicating with our customers to a whole new level. We have partnered with TechRadium to offer an interactive communication program at no cost to you, in which we can send text alerts, emails and voice messages in real time to keep you and your family informed of any water emergencies. This will aid in faster communications during emergencies such as water main breaks.

We encourage all of our customers to fill out the attached form with preferred contact information. If you have any questions regarding this free service please contact our office at 517-485-5470.
